The 1965 edition of the Rambler is proudly dedicated to Superintendent C. R. Brown, superintendent of Maple Valley Schools from 1959 to 1965.

Dedication

To you, Mr. Brown, we extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for your service to the students and community of Maple Valley.

Administration and Faculty

Education is a never ending process. Learning continues in the age-old pattern of seeing, listening, and doing. However, many of the methods of instruction have necessarily changed. The Maple Valley Community School is proud of its curriculum, its students, its teachers. We have moved ahead with the changing times. We will continue to make changes and move forward in the realm of education.

The Maple Valley Community High School is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and by the State Department of Public Instruction. The livelihood of our community is centered around and dependent upon the school, the churches, and its people. Having a good school and good churches and good people makes this a fine community in which to live.

We are proud of our heritage and our traditions. We want to be even more proud of our willingness and adaptability to make changes.

Q. R. Brown

At the end of each school year we can look back on the many and various achievements that have been made. In a few cases we can see where we have accomplished all that was intended, but in most cases we are sure that much more could have been done if only time and facilities would allow us.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Senior Class for a job well done and wish each and every one of them success in their chosen field, whatever it may be. To these who will be returning next year, try hard to set as good of an example for those who will follow you as the Seniors of 1965 have set for you.

“The Mouse That Roared”

Queen Judy and King Dick Reign over Homecoming

September 29, 1964, at 7:30 p.m., was the time of Homecoming Coronation. Master of Ceremonies, Roger Bengston, gave the proclamation which officially opened the Homecoming Festivities. Queen Judy Seuntjens and King Dick Merritt were crowned, and each gave addresses welcoming and urging everyone to attend the parade, game, and dance. Queen Judy was presented with a bouquet of red roses, a gift from the student council. Our King and Queen proceeded to reign during the week, at the parade in which they each gave pep talks, at the game, in which King Dick played, and at the dance.

The attendants, who were Jean Seuntjens and Gary Hahn, freshmen; Elisa Hagerdon and Roger Saxon, sophomores; Connie Uhl and Bill Ullrich, juniors; and Marge Collins and John Cord, seniors; marched into the auditorium with music provided by the concert band. They were chosen by their individual classes, the king and queen being chosen by the entire student body. The crown bearers were Jo Ann Cox and Greig Forney.

Coronation night was truly a night to remember; not only by our royalty, but by everyone who attended. It was the official opening of a wonderful week--a week of busy preparation for the climax of Homecoming 1964.
